Distillation

This product has a high alcohol content (36% alc./vol.) and minimal sugar (7.5 g/l). Shámán's preparation is in three phases: selective maceration of herbs and spices, realization, and aging in oak casks, which necessitate a precise approach with no compromise.

Tasting notes

The product contains the aromas of a great variety of herbs and spices originating from regions spanning a geography from the Extreme-Orient to our own farm in Québec. They are carefully chosen and calibrated to develop a powerful, floral and somewhat bitter taste. A new attractive flavor in line with today's trends!

To serve

Served cold, neat as a shooter or on ice, Shámán will surprise you with its flavor. Shámán also has a place of choice in a variety of cocktails making them most intriguing and powerful.
